... The New England Chapter of the Scleroderma Foundation to help people with scleroderma and their families cope with the disease through support programs, physician referrals, educational information and research.

Scleroderma is a chronic, often progressive disease in which the body's immune system attacks its own tissues. The disease, which literally means "hard skin," can result in thickening and tightening of the skin, as well as causing serious damage to internal organs. Scleroderma occurs three to four times more often in women than in men, and it also attacks children.
