

Let's Strike out Scleroderma forever!

What is Scleroderma?

Scleroderma is a chronic, often progressive autoimmune disease...like rheumatoid arthritis, lupus, and multiple sclerosis—in which the body's immune system attacks its own tissue.

The disease, which literally means "hard skin" can cause thickening and tightening of the skin, as well as serious damage to internal organs including the lungs, heart, kidneys, esophagus and gastrointestinal tract. Scleroderma occurs three times more often in women than men.

Symptoms of Scleroderma vary from mild to severe. For some, it's a life-threatening disease. For most people with Scleroderma, the disease has serious impact on daily life and although medication can help, there is no cure yet.
