

Name: Carol Baldwin

Professional Affiliation: Communications coordinator, Educational Outreach and International Programs, Wayne State University

What is your direct relationship to the scleroderma community? I am a patient. I was diagnosed in 2002, and became involved with the board in 2008.

Why have you chosen to serve as a member of the board for the Scleroderma Foundation Michigan Chapter? As a patient, I want to ensure that the SFMC has as much help as possible in order to focus on our goals of education, support and research. I understand the value the foundation brings to the scleroderma community, and hope to reach as many patients and care-givers as possible. Many scleroderma patients are not well enough to volunteer with the foundation, so it is important that I do my part and bring the patient view and experience to everything we do.

What else would you like us to know about you? I am a wife, stepmom, dogmom, teller of tales, crafter of stories, traveler, fundraiser and lover of coffee. In the words of David Bowie, "I dig everything."
